President's Column Bram's Ski Trails

Hi Everyone,

To start off this February 1, 2012, there is still time to sign up for the Midwest trip to MARQUETTE MOUNTAIN on Feb. 17-19th ($275) but it's getting close. We have 43 signed up already. So, don't delay so we can accommodate all who would like to go. Lisa Breu is our trip leader and does a great job but it becomes difficult to ensure rooming with short notices. Lisa would like to get a final count for the trip by Monday, Feb. 13th. She will be having subs, snacks and beverages on the way up. We will be staying at the Ramada Downtown and there will be a lot going on there. Friday will start the U.P. dogsled race but unfortunately we will miss the start but not all the excitement of the city. The weekend will include breakfast both days, dinner at the Ramada Saturday, and lunch on the hill both days. On the way home we will stop in Escanaba for fast food on your own. We will have beverages on the bus. We will pick up at The Bar on Lynndale, Appleton (leaves 5:30 pm sharp) and Walmart in Depere (pick up at 6 pm). Parking at Walmart is in the southwest corner of the lot and The Bar parking is the east side of their parking lot (furthest from their main entrance).

The final trip of the season for our club is BEAVER CREEK COLORADO, March 24-31st ($1399). There are only 5 spots left but that trip is also getting close to the end of signing up. Sam Fontaine is the trip leader and he stated the last day for sign up would be February 15, that is money received no later than that date. Don't delay to ensure your spot on the trip. It is a premier ski area "not exactly roughing it". We will be flying out via Delta airlines from Green Bay to Denver. Motor coach to Beaver Creek, ski in ski out condos with full kitchens, at the Borders Lodge, welcome wine & cheese reception. Hot tubs and pools on premises. Lift tickets are 5 out of 6 days that are valid at both Beaver Creek and Vail. The full amount of the trip is due upon signing up.

Big Snow weekend (Jan.6-8) was a big hit with the great ski conditions at both Indianhead and Blackjack. Mike Bast was the trip leader and we all enjoyed just about all you could eat and drink during the weekend. We had pizza at Blackjack before we left which enabled us to get home a little earlier. The most entertaining moment of the weekend was the Lunar award presented to Julie Buechner. She couldn't understand why her feet hurt so bad in her ski boots. Maybe the FOUR SETS of the full foot warmers in her boots was the reason.

There were 74 who enjoyed Steamboat Springs, Jan. 13-17th. Sam Fontaine was the trip leader with the assistance of Jim McMonagle. Sam took one group via motor coach to Milwaukee then Frontier airline to Denver, motor coach to Steamboat. Jim traveled with the other group flying out of Green Bay to Denver then motor coach to Steamboat. They needed a little snow when we arrived but the last day of skiing was fresh powder. There was some murmuring of getting snowed in but no luck. The weekend was packed full of fun and of coarse the Lunar awards. Someone took their sons skis to Colorado and one seasoned skier started to walk away, leaving his skis on the shuttle.

I am honored to be part of such a fine organization. Our Board of Directors put a lot of thought into any actions or direction taken for your club. We appreciate all of your input. Our main goal is to make the best, most affordable trips so all can enjoy skiing. The largest increase in cost for the Midwest trips is the bussing. That is why I encourage all to sign up and fill the busses for the trip. Moving from a 48 passenger bus to a 55 passenger bus has a dramatic increase in cost. I would appreciate any feedback from the trip that you have been a part of.

Thank you for your help.

To the Summit,
Deb

Big Snow: The Search for Snow

This year the trip started out with the same twist as last year. Again from the “It Never Hurts to Ask” chapter of life; Kerri Schuler got a call from her fellow Pharmacist friend Lisa looking for a “wing-person” (just trying to be Politically Correct here) to hit Chicago for the weekend and blow off some steam. Kerri politely declined saying she was going skiing up North with the club. Lisa decided that getting a Chicago Style Hot Dog could wait and inquired if there was room for her on this trip. A few phone calls later, a personally delivered check, and Lisa was on the trip as a new member.

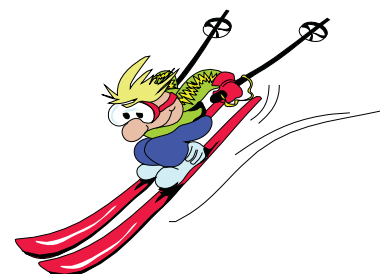

Unlike last year, the bus didn’t need to make a running start to get up the hill to reach the lodge parking lot at the top due to too much snow. Both Indianhead and Blackjack were not 100% open, but we made the most of the snow they both had. Because of the lack of snow; several of the steeper runs that were mogul-free, made them a treat for intermediate skiers. The River Drive run at Blackjack was still the best run for getting some air. There was a tapered knoll half way down on the run that if you hit the high side just right, you would find yourself easily 6-10 feet in the air. Some of our club members didn’t know about the knoll and that made for some interesting conversation. Any landing you can walk away from is a good landing.

This year I found some extra money in the trip budget and didn’t let it go to waste. The club provided subs on the way up, getting the group to the lodge about 30-45 minutes sooner. The club also provided an Après Ski Pizza Buffet at Blackjack, which gave us the Upper Level Group Meeting Room for the entire day. Having the meeting room gave club members a quiet place to relax and read a book.

The Lunar Awards on this trip were interesting. Apparently too many blow-dryers in use cause a circuit breaker to blow. That caused Julie Buechner to try to get ready in the dark. Bruce Kettner being a gentleman; used his I-phone to illuminate Julie’s bathroom, allowing Julie to finish getting ready. Bruce of course turned his head the other way the entire time, but in the end thanked Julie for allowing him to shoot a video (not really). Sources mentioned that they had never seen Julie’s eyes that wide. Deb Bramschreiber nominated Julie Buechner for causing her own ski boot issues. Julie was complaining that her boots were killing her feet and starting looking for the cause. Julie found not one but four disposable foot bed heaters in each boot. After removing all the heaters, the boots fit just fine and got her the Lunar Award. She was awarded a trophy and a starter pair of foot bed heaters. I also should have been a Lunar Award nominee. On the way home, people were listening to the football game and post game show on the radio, so I waited to put a movie in. Well I fell asleep, put the movie “The Help” in a little late and we never finished it. Adam had to take the movies back to the video store that night. When we got to DePere we dropped off Adam and all of the movies.

Thanks to Deb Bramschreiber for taking a soccer trophy and with the help of a Dremil tool, turned it into a Lunar Award. Big thanks to Bill & Monica Secor for lending us some of Bill’s Warren Miller films for the way up and Adam Hanson for getting the movies (that we almost finished) for the return trip. Special thanks to Pam Lewandowski for helping me haul the coolers and other supplies to the bus. If I packed my car with everything I needed for this trip, I’d have to run alongside and steer.

See you on the slopes,
Mike
